Abstract

Issues of solving some multicriteria assignment problem are presented. More precisely bicriteria assignment problem is solved using linear convolution. For the same problem  $\varepsilon$ -Constraint Method solvability is researched. It is shown, that solution with this method is Sleiter Optimal. To get Pareto Optimal solution, scalar optimization problem with equality constraints should be solved in addition.